supports his family,
and protects the innocent.

Many women who have abortions feel coerced or pressured to do so by their boyfriends or husbands.

N. B. Campbell et al., "Abortion in Adolescence," Adolescence, 1988.
L. Cohen & S. Roth, "Coping with Abortion," Journal of Human Stress, 1984.

In one survey, 64% of women who aborted felt pressured by others.

VM Rue et al., "Induced abortion and traumatic stress: A preliminary comparison of American and Russian women," Medical Science Monitor, 2004.

80% of women who've had abortions said that they would have given birth if supported to do so by others.
